

More Pictures Showing Old Exhibitions

Below, Jan Gray and James Negus pose outside the Museum in front of John Rowell's WWII ambulance in 1998.

Below, Our 1990 exhibition at the museum. It looks quite busy but they always do if you catch them right. Roger Negus and David Gray in the centre. Darren Williamson on the left.

Below: This was the premier of the movie Memphis Belle at the Showcase in 1990 when we were asked by the cinema management to put on a display for the opening. David Gray and Roger Negus sitting.
